THE MASTER CONNECTOR

KEYNOTE SPEECHES:

'CONNECT TO THRIVE!'

Great leaders and top producers are not only great sales people – they are AMAZING connectors. The ability to forge strong connections with your desired targets builds revenue streams that can last for decades. Designed for all audiences, this 90-minute session is focused on showing you the skills you need to practice, the mindset you need to maintain, and the authentic way you need to 'be' to strengthen your 'connecting core.' Attendees will be inspired by Lou to win more business, achieve longer and more fruitful relationships, 'connect' like a 'Master Connector,' and draw your desired targets into 'your world.'

'OFF THE CHARTS'

Without a doubt – this is one of the most game-changing leaderships programs your team will ever experience. Lou's been a top performer throughout his career and has a unique way of using the power of 'connection' to achieve amazing results. Designed for organizational leaders, senior sales professionals and top performers, this presentation centers on: a) Record setting goals; b) A focused and clear mindset; c) Leaders that empower their teams to do the same; d) Live and breathe their "SUPER WHYS"

'CONNECTING VS. NETWORKING'

You'd be surprised how many people 'network' poorly. Many 'old school' tactics of expanding one's network to increase the top end of the sales funnel don't apply in today's fast moving world. Technology, social media, over-scheduled conferences, and an over-abundance of networking events have altered the most effective ways to 'network' effectively. Lou Diamond's 'Connecting vs. Networking' comes up with a 'game plan' for people to improve how they network in a way that they connect. His underlying philosophy and very tactical tasks get results and will change HOW YOU THINK ABOUT NETWORKING and how to really maximize and build your connections.

'BE BRIEF, BE BRIGHT, BE GONE'

This is more than just Lou's sign-off on his popular Podcast show, "Thrive LOUD." Lou has developed a communication style that has become an extremely effective and efficient way to lead meetings, sales calls, and get your message across in a way that connects and gets to the point.
